SEA SHROUDS FATE OF BRAZIL FLYER MEXICANS HOLD YANKS

GEORGIA PILOT THOUGHT TO BE OVER MAINLAND

No Direct Word on Hop
Received; Ace Due
In Rio Tonight

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 26.—The deep Caribbean Sea alone knows the whereabouts tonight of Paul Redfern, valiant Pan-American flyer bound from Brunswick to Brazil.

NO DIRECT WORD

No direct word has been heard from him since he took off from here at 12:46 o'clock Thursday afternoon. A radio message from Nassau, picked up at St. Petersburg, Fla., said Redfern's monoplane, the "Port of Brunswick," had been sighted 200 miles east of the Bahama Islands by a steamer yesterday afternoon. This report, unconfirmed from any other source, placed him from 400 to 600 miles out, and indicated that he was holding his course.

24 HOURS SILENCE

More than 24 hours of silence have intervened, however, since that time, despite the fact that ships at sea and islands have been asked to report if his plane was sighted.

If the young pilot had maintained his schedule, he would have been over Dutch Guiana tonight. Redfern would have passed Porto Rico Thursday night and passed over the Caribbean during the remainder of the night. Daybreak would have found him.

HOW MONEY GROWS

It is really wonderful how interest, added to regular deposits even though they are small, counts up. The attractive interest now paid by Building and Loan Associations, which are under state supervision and as strong and safe as anything can be, offers unusual opportunity to those who want to get ahead. For definite information consult the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS FALL ROUNDUP

Over a hundred boys in the Pioneer and Friendly Indian clubs of the Richmond Y. M. C. A. gathered last night for the first "round-up" of the year to hear the plans for the fall term. A. W. Mueller, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., announced that there would be a special event for each of the clubs each month and mentioned prospective trips to the beach, "weenie" roasts, and a Halloween night program.

A. Page Harlow, a junior in the Y. M. C. A. college at Chicago, spoke to the boys on the work being done in Chicago's west side. This part of the city is so tough, he said, that the leader dare not turn his back to the boys for fear of being slugged with a lead pipe. The conditions in this section are improving, however, due to the efforts of the Y. M. C. A.

Yells were led last night by Willie Hilder of the Sam Houston Pioneers.

The Pioneer clubs are for boys 12 to 15 years of age, and the Friendly Indian clubs are for those between the ages of 10 and 12 years. There are four Friendly Indian clubs: Apache, Comanche, Mohawk and the Y. M. C. A. Merger club of Friendly Indians. Seven clubs make up the Pioneer clubs and are the following: Pute, Sam Houston, Navajo, Shawnee, Abe Lincoln, Dan Boone and Kit Carson.

The Comrade clubs are for boys between the ages of 14 and 16 years, and a set-up meeting of these clubs will be held next Wednesday night. There are five of the Comrade clubs: McKinley, Francis Asbury, Roger Williams, Trojan and the Y. M. C. A. Merger club.

FIVE OF SEVEN POINTS OKAYED BY CALIFORNIA

Arizona And California
On Equal Terms Under
New Compromise

DENVER, Aug. 26.—What looms as a possible settlement of the 7-state Colorado river pact appeared today with the announcement of the California delegation that it had accepted five of the seven proposals advanced by the governors of the four upper states in the Colorado basin.

YOUNG BANS PROPOSAL

The new agreement was drawn after Governor C. C. Young, of California, had declared that the proposal advanced earlier in the evening was entirely unsatisfactory to his state.

Arizona was also drafting its answer to the mediation proposals submitted as a settlement basis by the Governors of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming.

PROTEST ARIZONA CLAIM

The new proviso that California announced was wholly unacceptable, would reserve to Arizona 650,000 acre feet of water for use on Indian lands. The California representatives declared the compact will take care of this matter.

NO ACTION YET TAKEN ON BUDGET

No definite decision upon the budget of city expenses and the city tax rate for the fiscal year of 1927-28 was reached yesterday by the Richmond city council, and it was stated that another meeting would be necessary sometime before Monday night to arrive at a determination.

The absence of council members was also instrumental in postponing final action on the various items involved. Nothing is definitely known as to whether the tax rate will be subject to an increase or a decrease.

Adoption of the budget is scheduled at the council meeting next Monday night.

SOUTHERN REDS SEIZE MINE OF U. S. CITIZENS

Blame Sacco Propaganda
For Mob Violence In Death Aftermath

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The State Department is in receipt of a report today from Consul Joseph Satterwhite at Guadalajara, Mexico, stating that radicals have seized the American-owned plant of the Amparo Mining company in the state of Jalisco and that eighteen Americans and eleven British subjects are held in their homes.

GOVERNMENT ACTS

A later report from the American Embassy in Mexico City declared that the government had the situation in hand and that the "situation" of the besieged was "satisfactory."

The identity of the besieged man was not given in either message.

HINT SACCO MOTIVE

The agitators are said to have gone to the mines, forty miles from Guadalajara, last Sunday and attempted to stir the Mexican laborers against their employers prior to the Sacco-Vanzetti execution. Satterwhite in his message said that the property had been seized by "Red syndicalists."

PROPAGANDA SPREAD

Satterwhite and the British consul last Sunday drew the attention of the Federal military commander to the situation at the mines and to the anti-foreign propaganda that was being spread. Satterwhite reported that all foreigners had left the mine surroundings and taken refuge in Guadalajara except the eighteen Americans and eleven British at Amparo itself.

AWAIT DETAILS

The State Department is awaiting further details as to the safety of the Americans at Amparo and as to measures the Mexican authorities are taking to protect American life and property. For the time being the embassy in Mexico City is in charge of the situation.

Richmond Police Cooperate In Eastbay Brake Test Week

In cooperation with the police department all over the east bay, Richmond authorities will endeavor to make east bay automobiles safe on the streets and the highways, opening Monday, August 29, in a spectacular Brake Test Campaign. Ten cities of the two counties, Alameda and Contra Costa are lending their support.

The campaign, says Chief of Police Dan Cox of Richmond, is one of a series of special efforts throughout the year which are held to be responsible for the fact that the deaths from automobile accidents in this vicinity are showing a remarkable decrease. Every agency will be employed to cause the motoring public to reline or adjust their brakes beginning Monday. Richmond police will stop passing motorists and test their brakes with an automatic brake testing mechanism in the vicinity of Twenty-third street, and either give them a windshield sticker showing that the brakes are in good condition or cite them to appear in court as violators of the state motor vehicle law.

"Thousands of eprson can save themselves trouble by taking care of their brakes voluntarily," Chief Cox said. "It is not our desire to embarrass anyone. The campaign is conceived in a humanitarian spirit with the object of still further reducing our automobile death toll. No one is safe as long as automobiles are permitted to navigate the streets with brakes that will not stop them."

IMPRESSIONS OF MEN

Without inquiring into the capacities of the various men who are spoken of as presidential possibilities, the country is inclined to estimate them on the outward impressions gained from slight and unimportant acts. Now we hear that Charles G. Dawes, the vice-president of the United States, has a killing fault in that he is not steady enough.

Well, this is certainly interesting. Of course the vice-president is not as "steady" as the president. Neither is Jack Sharkey as steady as Jack Dempsey, nor can you assume that Charlie Chaplin is as steady as Andy Gump. With one you always know the answer and with the other you guess.

After a man so sure and well seated in the commonplace, the common-sense and the common man's esteem as President Coolidge, the country might do well with a man of some fire and dash like the general. We recall with certain pleasure having written an estimate of the one-time director of the United States budget, as a candidate for vice-president long before we have any record of others suggesting him for the position, hence his election was a compliment to our personal foresight. And with all the oddities of his regime as presiding officer of the senate, General Dawes has not fallen from the high place where we placed him in 1924.

Behind the "unsteadiness" of Dawes, for all the critics may know, there is a powerful working mind, a keen insight and a capacity and willingness for work that are required for a president. And some steady men we have known have been so taken by the public only to dis close plain laziness when analyzed.

A North Carolina colored baby has eighteen fingers. Think what a jazz baby she will make when she grows up.

Mr. Tardieu denies that he ever stated that the French debt pact was as good as dead, but judging from the amount of money we have received from it he might as well have said it.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad has adopted a gasoline locomotive, costing the same as a 5-ton truck to be used in yards for switching purposes. The new locomotive develops 127 horse-power, four speeds forward and reverse and costs 60 cents an hour to operate and nothing while idle. It will move 12 loaded cars at a speed of 18 miles an hour.

"Keep 'America' American." This is the advice of Hanford MacNider, former national commander of the American Legion. The slogan is designed to replace the war slogan, "Make the world safe for democracy," but if we keep America American democracy will always be safe.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

This is the birthday of Miss George Cohan, who is very much under the influence of Virgo because she was born when both the Sun and the Moon were in this sign. She is also influenced by a strong vibration from Uranus and Saturn all bring in that sign in her horoscope.

Venus was in Cancer and gave her a talent for emotional and dramatic expression while Mercury, stimulated by Leo's enthusiasm, led her to success in the theatre. The effect of Sagittarius on Virgo is to add enthusiasm, energy, impulse and a live of marvel to the more retiring and methodical temperament of Virgo. It gave Miss Cohan independence and foresight.

The natural temperament of Virgo is rather quiet and retiring. There is a certain modesty and aversion of blatant publicity and shows about most Virginians. They are practical enough, however, to recognize their own talents and qualifications and to spend as much time as possible out of doors.

They are studious and clever, often cleverer than their associates, they are ingenious and very conscientious. Most of them are exceedingly fond of nature and like to spend as much time as possible out of doors.

Virgo belongs to the Earth and is therefore practical. There are, of course, worldly people among the Virginians, and most of them have a strong spiritual sense and try very hard to live up to their ideals. To them, deeds are more important than words and the building of character more vital than material success, though they recognize the value and importance of success.

Expert Tells Of Warmth And Cold Of Color Blends

Were it not for an assemblage of colors and color combinations, when would be quite as drab as men. Each season fashion promotes certain new color combinations which revive our interest in clothes and seem to give us a new lease on life.

Colors may be divided into two classes, warm colors and cold colors. The warm colors reflect light, such as red, orange or colors that have red or orange tones in them. Orange, for instance, is a mixture of white, black and red, is a warm tone. Warm tones are inclined to make one appear larger than cool shades, such as green, blue or bluish violet. The blending of a cold color with a warm color may produce either cold or warmth, according to which shade is the predominating one. Warm colors are winter tones, whereas cool colors are best suited for warm summer months.

Red suggests fire, life, heat, danger. Blended with brown or other colors the same effect is gained.

Rose-haze and all of the rose-toned tans are inviting shades, since they give forth an idea of warmth.

Orange suggests the warmth of autumn fires, the outdoors. Green, yellow, white, gray, blue are cold colors.

Green expresses life, vigor, open spaces. Yellow expresses sunlight, butterflies, spring flowers.

Gray reminds one of the dawn, the sea, mists.

White perhaps the coldest tone, suggests snow, purity, youth.

Cool shades are much easier to wear than warm ones, since warm shades are apt to be overpowering to the wearer. Pastels are generally cool shades, and while they fail to attract attention, they always are flattering to the person wearing them.

What Your FACE TELLS

MISS SLIM — AND WHY SHE ACTS SO!

The law of compensation plays an important part in our lives. We pay for all we possess or lack. Every cause has its effect, and every effect its cause.

Observe the tall, slim, frail looking woman. This kind of woman is ruled by gloomy moods, and in consequence, attracts gloomy people and gloomy conditions. This is the critical, crumbling jockey who worries, fusses and frets and finally winds up a nervous wreck. The wiry form, the sharp elbows, sharp nose and drooping mouth tell a story of indigestion, starved affection and discontent.

This person always sees the unpleasant side of every situation, and has forgotten how to laugh.

and grow fat. She is ill tempered and she dislikes children, men and pets. Untidy dressing tables, scattered toys and muddy feet worry her dreadfully and a scuff on her satin finished chair or an unnecessary noise drives her wild.

The brain and nerve system predominate in this make-up. Both diet and mental attitude are responsible for the angular, thin, nourished body. It is the instinctive urge of this type to refrain from eating rich foods.

This woman is a high class mental. She would make an excellent teacher if she would overcome her critical ways. If you see yourself in this mirror put away your worries, selfish jealousies and nervousness will disappear. Your habits are foolish ones and have only the power you give them. Forget your prejudices, fears and negative feelings.

Love, joy, sympathy, appreciation and tolerance are the sweetness of life. There is no use wasting time and life on impossibilities. Stop finding fault. Let others live according to their own understanding. You have a big job directing your own life and the other person may be nearer the right than you are. Seek to correct your own weaknesses, find your larger, nobler self and by so doing you can put new strength into your body a spring into your walk, a sparkle in your eye, color in your cheeks, fresh on your bones and thus lengthen your days. Perhaps you may even add a sweetheart.

Tomorrow — The Vital Typo Woman.

Save Yourself By Putting Your Beauty On A Budget

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

Had you ever thought of budgeting your beauty time? This is an idea that will appeal immediately to the busy modern housewife and the up to date business girl. What with tempus "fighting" at the rate of sixty seconds a minute and every minute filled to overflowing, every second must be made to count.

By budgeting the beauty time no detail of the toilet is neglected. A mere lick and a promise is about all the business girl can afford to give herself in the morning before she starts to work. By the end of the week she's on the ragged edge when it comes to looks, yet she is expected to look fit at all times.

Here is a splendid beauty budget that has been followed successfully by many busy women, who have kept their looks, their well-groomed appearance, their poise and their charm, despite lack of time, limited salaries and other obstacles.

Monday—Give special attention to the hair and scalp. Every other Monday wash the hair.

Tuesday—Eye day. Eyes should be cleansed every day, but three or four times on Tuesday. Let them rest.

Wednesday—Give particular attention to the skin, special massage.

Thursday, take note of fine lines and wrinkles. First find their cause, after that trace the relaxed muscles and use persuasion with them in the form of gentle massage and facial exercises.

Friday—Give attention to the neck, the contour of the throat.

Saturday—The arms, elbows and hands should be given attention, special massage. Pay attention also to the feet.

Sunday Special baths. Of course, even with the beauty budget, there are certain duties that must be performed each day. For instance, do not neglect your daily exercises, the teeth, the bath and so on. The entire body must be given the "once over" daily just the same as if one were not following the budget plan.

The real advantage of the budget is that every part of the body gets special attention on one day each week, thus insuring that well-groomed appearance so necessary to the modern woman's success and happiness.

The Smartest Thing My Dog Ever Did

We had a dog from the time he was a puppy until he died. He was born on a farm. Those folks meant to drown him in the river one day, but the stone they threw him in was too light. He finally dragged himself to shore. My uncle was standing there, took the stone off the puppy's neck, took the dog home with him and we had him always. He sure loved our family, went with us everywhere, but hated rivers so much (probably from his semi-drowning experience) that he'd never go even near another river—would run miles from it.

One day we went down to the river to row across. The dog went with us to the bank in utter despair. But he'd not get in the boat. He ran up and down the bank yodeling to the skies for help. His face turned purple thinking it was all over, probably. Then, with a last mournful cry to the heavens, the dog plunged into the river. We had to hurry back to save him.

MRS. PERCY SANDERSON.

Of course, your dog does smart things. Tell the "Dog Editor."

CHAPTER XXIV. Fabien had added tremulous efforts. Finally he gave. With a roar of triumph the man redoubled his efforts. A snap and the metal doors parted, and clattered back on the deck. The giant's head and shoulders appeared first. As soon as he gained the deck the others followed, madly shouting to each other incoherently about taking possession of the ship.

Through talk, writhing, gasping mass of humanity, Fabien fought his way upward and outward. He suddenly realized that the mutiny he had incited was about to cause him trouble. Manon was not safe with all the convicts at large. He must find her at once.

The outbreak was a complete surprise and the ship's crew was caught at a cruel disadvantage. Vainly the Captain and the Governor tried to organize them into a semblance of resistance. But the onset was too sudden, too unexpected and the convicts so far outnumbered the sailors that the result was inevitable. Backed as it was with the fury of madmen the half naked demons rushed down the deck. Here and there the battle broke away into hand-to-hand conflicts as one doughty man met another.

The giant was the spirit of the attack. If one of the ship's crew got in his way he picked up the unfortunate sailor and hurled him bodily over the rail into the sea. Almost crazed with anxiety, Fabien finally succeeded in sidestepping the melee. With a shudder he turned his back on the fighting and rushed into the cabin door where he had last seen Manon. It was locked but he wrenched it open and his face turned livid as he saw her lying helpless across the couch with Synnelet bending over looking toward the door as if suddenly disturbed by the commotion going on outside.

CHAPTER XXV. With a crash of rage that resembled the snarl of an angry beast, Fabien leaped across the threshold and hurled himself bodily through the air straight at the hated countenance that loomed above Manon's prostrated body.

Terror stricken, Synnelet fled and fear gave him speed enough to slip through another door leading into another cabin. He just had time to shoot the bolt like a man. He crashed against it and beat furiously but vainly with his fists in an effort to get in.

The commotion and sudden intrusion served to arouse Manon from her death like trance. She opened her eyes and saw—not Synnelet but Fabien! Across her face, transforming it, swept an overpowering emotion of love and with a cry of joy she rose to her feet and rushed into her lover's arms.

The joy of possession, the safety and reassurance of the one he loved better than life itself served to calm Fabien as nothing else could have done. Pausing long enough to press Manon close to him—to press one long, lingering kiss on her lips, he forced himself from her embrace.

"I must go and see what is best for us," he said. "There is nothing to do. Don't fear! I will return. Lock yourself in until I come for you."

As Fabien cautiously let himself out, Manon bolted the lock securely behind him, then she pushed everything that she could move against the door that Synnelet had used a few moments before. There was nothing else she could do, except wait for Fabien's return and pray for his safety.

When Fabien let himself out of the cabin he was just in time to see Synnelet emerge from the doorway, adjoining, and look furtively about. As he caught sight of Fabien he looked back, vainly seeking an avenue of escape, seeing none and not desiring to be trapped in the room he turned and fled toward the bow.

With a bound Fabien was after him. Synnelet paused long enough to get a baying pin from the rail, then as Fabien drew near he stopped for a moment and hurled it with deadly aim straight at his head. Fabien dodged and missed the blow but it handicapped his time and gave Synnelet a chance to elude him and jump into the rigging.

Synnelet preferred the ship's rigging only to combat with Fabien, but he had no choice and made his way upward never pausing until he had gained the crow's nest.

Like a bloodhound that cannot be shaken from his quarry, Fabien went after him. But Synnelet was triumphant. He had drawn a short sword and leered at Fabien across the dangerous blade as he climbed nearer and nearer.

All about them on the deck below the fighting continued, although none of them were more determined to kill than the two men high up in the crow's nest.

How To EARN MONEY at HOME.

By Sara Spence

I would like to earn some money. Before my marriage I taught school. What would you advise? MRS. K. RICHMOND.

There is always money to be made by coaching or tutoring youngsters who are somewhat backward in their school work. Your experience as a school teacher should fit you admirably for such work. School authorities will doubtless recommend you to the parents.

I must stay at home and look after my invalid mother. I am fairly a making knickknacks, sewing, and I can make beautiful lamp shades. Do you think it is too early to start such things for the Christmas trade. If not, how could I go about taking such orders? Do you think it will pay me to do this? ANXIOUS

Of course, such work will pay if you go about it in the right way. It is not too early to start taking orders, as it takes time to make such articles. You might have a few circulars printed and distribute same among your neighbors. Add in the paper what the prices are. You need not pay much for such an ad. A few lines will be sufficient.

Life Of Poverty Is Chosen By Rich Japanese Woman

TOKIO, August 26.—Known for 34 years as one of the half-dozen richest and most powerful business women of the world, Mrs. Yone Suzuki, of Japan has decided to end life as she began it, in obscure poverty.

The recent financial panic in Japan wiped out her vast holdings, controlling interest in almost 60 large companies. So she has left her Oriental castle in Suma, and retired to a simple Japanese cottage in Shiyoa, near Kobe, where she intends to spend the rest of her life. She is now 77 years old, and has lived so strenuously that she feels she has not much longer to live.

The Japanese consider Mrs. Suzuki's life story the greatest business romance of modern Japan. For she started her career a half century ago when she married Lwajiro Suzuki, a humble exchange merchant in the new port-city of Kobe. She was the guiding genius in her rise to great wealth, and after he died, 34 years ago, she carried on the business to even greater heights.

If you are not prepared to laugh until your side aches, stay away from the Richmond theatre today, where the screaming First National comedy, "Lost at the Front," is the attraction. Humor at its best, George Sidney and Charlie Murray in the stellar roles, and lovely Natalie Kingston as the leading woman. The combination is superb. The story by Frank Griffin was directed by Del Lord, king of slapstick, and produced by John McCormick. It details the experiences on the Russian front during the World War of Patrick Muldoon and August Krause, friendly but at dagger's points over a girl. Other film features include "Be Your Age" a roaring comedy; and Felix in "Sax Appeal."

THEIR START

Alice: "Dad do you think George is making enough to support me?" Father: "Yes, dear. That's more than I was making when I married." Alice: "But do you think a seven-room house is large enough for us?" Father: "Certainly. Your mother and I started fighting in three rooms."

TOM MIX PLAYS IN BIG WESTERN AT CALIFORNIA

Some of the most thrilling stunts ever pictured, feature Fox Films "The Broncho Twister," a Tom Mix story of Western Ranges, which had its first showing at the California theatre yesterday. Needless to say, it is Tom Mix who made the audience sit forward gripping their seats, with his daring horsemanship and feats of dangerous daring. But this is not merely a picture of unprecedented stunts, there is a real story of which the thrills are a logical part. In addition, the cast is one of the best and carries forward the action of the story to a logical conclusion. Helene Costello, daughter of Maurice Costello, first of the movie heroes, carries on the tradition of the family with an unusually fine performance. Malcolm Waite gives a fine performance as the villain, Boris Lloyd is a fine scoundrel of Old Spain and George Irving is splendidly cast as Tom's father. The picture was directed by Orville Dull from an original story by Adela Rogers St. John, and is a fine entertainment from every angle. Don't miss it.

Other features include "Hoboken To Hollywood," a Mack Sennett comedy; "Ko Ko Makes 'Em Laugh"; and International News.

That depends a good deal on you. If you're one type of person, news is divorces, and murders, and heir-to-millions-hangs-self. If you're another type, news is closing quotations on the stock exchange. If you're somebody else, news is final scores at the ball-field or race-track.

But no matter what type of person you are, news is also information about the things you need and use in your every-day life. If there's a new style in coats or shoes or gloves—that's news. If there's a new type of vacuum cleaner or radio battery or vitamin—that's news. If there are improvements in automobiles, new records for the player piano, a better tooth-paste—that's news.

in that it allows the Federal government to step in and take water at any time it desires.

EQUAL WATER DIVISION
The new agreement virtually agrees to an equal division of the waters between California and Arizona after taking out 300,000 acre feet for Nevada's share.

The proposal was that California deliver approximately two-thirds of the water which she claims from the Colorado river to Arizona. The Arizona delegation, upon arriving at the executive chambers for the opening of the conference, announced it had an answer prepared. The answer was reported to be an acceptance of the proposal offered shortly before midnight.

ARIZONA TO ANSWER
The Arizona delegation said that submission of its answer was pending decision by California on the proposal of the upper basin states. Members of the California delegation appeared worn and haggard after the all-night deliberation as they went into executive session in an endeavor to obtain clarification of some of the language contained in the compromise proposal.

ON NEW BASIS
On the new basis California would receive 4,137,500 acre feet of water and Arizona 4,062,500 acre feet of water. This is a difference of 962,000 acre feet of water in the total claimed by California prior to the submission of the compromise proposal.

Burglars Prowl Semar Home

Burglars ransacked the home of Harry Semar, 2223 Dunn avenue, and made their exit as Semar was entering the front door. They took with them five dresses belonging to Mrs. Semar and a suit and overcoat belonging to Lee Semar who is traveling in the east.

Entrance to the home was made through a bathroom window beneath which tracks were found. The burglars evidently were familiar with conditions at the house and knew that the family was absent.

Semar had gone to Oakland to visit his wife who is recovering from an operation. He noticed that the house had been entered as he opened the front door and immediately made his way to the kitchen, grabbing a weapon before he turned on the lights.

The kitchen door had been left open by the thieves who had made their get-away.

Orpheum Players Are Honored At Party

John Toffoli and Roy Banducci who will begin a tour of the Orpheum circuit today, were honored guests at a party last night given by Mr. and Mrs. P. Banducci and Mr. and Mrs. L. Toffoli at the home of the former, 1331 Barrett avenue. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served.

Toffoli and Banducci play in an accordion band, accompanying De La Plaza and Juanita, famous dancers, on the Orpheum circuit. They will open in San Francisco today.

Those enjoying the affair last night were: Messrs. and Mrs. James Toffoli, Banducci, H. Russell, E. M. Liggett, Jesse C. Walker, Flraby, of Salt Lake City; Mrs. Anna Banducci of Baker, field; Miss Lillian Mills, Miss Betty Lee and Miss Marian Eberle and Messrs. Joseph and Peter Toffoli and Angelo Banducci.

Family Night Observed By The W. O. W.

"Family Night" was celebrated with a special program by the local camp of Woodmen of the World last night with about 125 attending. Cooper and his company of Oakland entertained with novelty stunts, even wringing music out of an auto tire pump and glass tumblers. The program was obtained by the social committee headed by Walter Black.

Next Friday night the camp will hold an initiation.

MYSTERY PLANE FLEES AIRPORT

A mystery airplane, speeding toward San Francisco from the south at dawn yesterday, gave aviation officials a puzzle to solve when its pilot, evidently frightened by the sudden turning on of lights at Mills field, municipal airport, changed his mind about landing there and took to the air again.

"Was it a dope smuggler, a rum runner or a scout plane for some other sort of illicit enterprise?" members of the Supervisors' Airport Committee asked each other when Frank O. Flynn, superintendent of the municipal airport, reported the incident.

John Kelly, night watchman at the airport, saw the plane and turned on the lights, which appeared to frighten the pilot away. It was at about 5 o'clock, just before dawn, he said, when he heard the drone of the plane, rather high in the southern sky.

As the craft flew over the field, Kelly said he was able to identify it only as a large biplane evidently painted gray, but entirely devoid of the required license number or any other markings.

After passing the field, the biplane turned back and circled the landing area, decreasing its altitude as if for a landing. When the ship's wheels were nearly touching the ground, Kelly said, he turned on the field's beacon and flood lights, in accordance with his instructions, to facilitate the landing of any plane which might arrive during the night.

No sooner were the lights turned on, the watchman declared, than the pilot "gave her the gun," took to the air again and disappeared in the morning haze to the northeast of the field.

From the description Kelly gave of the plane, Flynn said it was entirely possible that it may have made a non-stop flight from Mexico during the night. He and the Supervisors considered the possibility that it may have been a dope smuggler.

After hearing Flynn's report, the committee members cautioned him to be extremely careful about what planes land at the municipal field. They told him to notify Federal authorities if any irregularity is observed.

Flynn, pointing out to the Supervisors that the mysterious early morning incident had illustrated the efficiency of the airport's administration and lighting system. Any plane arriving there at any time of the day or night will find complete landing facilities, he declared.

Grand Central Airport Plan In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, August 26.—A "Grand Central Airport" in the very heart of the city of Los Angeles, to be formed by roofing over the Los Angeles river is being advocated by D. E. McDonald of Pasadena, president of the Southern California Chapter of the National Aeronautical Association.

Until McDonald advanced his suggestion, the Los Angeles river, which is mostly bed and very little river, had been regarded as a total loss as far as development of any kind, industrial or business was concerned. Now McDonald declares that the river offers Los Angeles a unique opportunity for development of air traffic.

"At one place, he says, 'it will be possible to build an airfield half a mile wide and extending far up and down the stream. The city is prepared to spend $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 on a landing field eight or ten miles from the center of business. I believe that a down town field could be built for no more than that.'

Texas Fertilizer Find May Revolutionize Industry

SAN SABA, Tex., Aug. 26.—The fertilizer industry in America and foreign countries will be revolutionized in a few months if claims made by the American Fertilizer and Chemical Works are true. America will be dependent neither upon Germany for her potash, nor upon South America for nitrates, made by the American Fertilizer and Chemical Works are true.

Three miles east of San Saba, Texas, in San Saba county, is found the greatest of Texas' natural resources. Five thousand acres of land have been leased or purchased outright by the company which is headed by Judge Hawkins. This country is a solid mass of fossil vegetation, animal and plant life. More than 40,000,000 tons of this natural fertilizer is in sight above the ground. This mass of twigs, leaves, limbs and bark of trees contains the ten elements of plant life necessary to the development of the richest fields in the world. Trees and rank undergrowth of all kinds thrive in profusion in the solid rock.

THE POOR BUT HONEST VOIGHT

Other sections of the country may be interested in the attempt of George Von Elm, Coast golfer and present holder of the United States amateur golf championship, to beat Bobby Jones of Atlanta, Ga., in the title scrap over the Minnikaha links at Minneapolis.

The U. S. G. A. will take a culling if Von Elm repeats last year's story, for the ruling powers of golf ranked Jones at No. 1 and Von Elm at No. 2 in the recent listing, disregarding Von Elm's position as champion to genuflect before the Jones golf prowess.

Washington, D. C., however, is pursuing an even more intriguing issue at Minneapolis. This relates to George Voight and Roland MacKenzie, both from Washington, D. C., but not necessarily members of the same club.

MacKenzie belongs to the upper class of Washington. Voight is of the proletariat, having committed the faux pas of being born poor.

You will recall that Voight was recently put on the U. S. G. A. carpet and accused of abusing his amateurism by accepting dough from Edward McLean, wealthy Washington publisher, oil man and owner of fast horses.

Voight was cleared of the charges, but his followers to this day assert that it was the MacKenzie silk-stocking crowd that stirred the hostile agitation to the poor but honest Voight. They go beyond this and assert that it was jealousy of Voight's golfing superiority that prompted the MacKenzie rooters to seek cancellation of Voight's amateur ticket.

Voight and MacKenzie are now at Minneapolis intent on making the other appear ridiculous before the eyes of official and unofficial Washington. If MacKenzie beats Voight, the social elite of Washington will find added flavor in their after-dinner liquors; if Voight beats MacKenzie, his backers, in their relation, will forget that the makers of near-neer are poor judges of distance.

McLEAN SAYS "SIC 'EM, GEORGE!"

The Teapot Dome fuss was just a bubble compared to the temp-tation kicked up in this Voight-MacKenzie uproar.

I doubt that Edward H. McLean is mightily worried over it. He will probably have a large bet riding on Voight at Minneapolis, for McLean was ever one to back his judgment.

The discovery of golf prodigies is McLean's hobby.

He acted as patron to Chris Dunphy for a long time, and at that time golfers protested that McLean's patronage smacked of professionalism.

It was not until McLean picked up Voight, a clerk, and proceeded to give him the opportunity to play regularly that the elite of golf raised their hands in horror.

George Voight was considerably more than a meek clerk when he got a vet of regulation golf shillalals in his hands. He won one turnney after another, showing little or no regard for the fact that the birds he licked belonged to the Union League Club and came from the First Families of Virginia.

I imagine that McLean views the controversy cynically. McLean, independent, wealthy, does not take society very seriously.

That is why he delights in confounding the plus fours of the "400" with the poor but honest Voight, who scores in the low 70's like nobody's business.

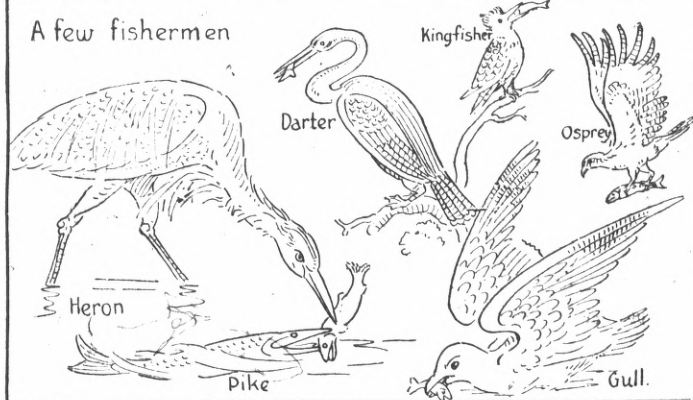

BRONX VOTES THE DEMPSEY TICKET

Having made The Bronx safe for Democratic Golfers, Sheriff Lester Patterson and County Judge Jim Barrett are now engaged in the task of rooting Dempsey home in his September 22 fight with Gene Tunney at Chicago. It is significant that men like Sheriff Patterson and Judge Barrett are Dempsey admirers. The charm of the big fellow from Manassa appeals to the highest type of sporting fan in this country. Judge Barrett, for instance, is not a boxing fan. He doesn't like the game or the way it is run, but he is going to Chicago to add his cheers to the Dempsey chorus.

These Bronx Democrat chieftains are the golfingest golfers I have ever met. They play regularly at Mike Brady's tough Winger Foot course, with Lou Hartman, Tom Kiernan, Bob Dillon, Ed Chapman, Jack Flynn, Lefty Thomas and a host of other fine fellows. They are rarely blessed in their refusal to take the game seriously. All of them are engaged in law or politics, and Chapman tells hilarious stories of court proceedings between shots.

The hard part of it is that the people who are looking for trouble aren't the only one who get it.

To the Fong Wan Herb Co.,
I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co. and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLING UNDER POLICE PROBE

Although no charges had yet been placed against Gerald Shaughnessy, whose truck crushed the life from a small Oakland girl and seriously injured another, he was still being held yesterday in the Oakland city jail.

Police Inspector George Power, who spent the day interviewing witnesses to the accident, stated last night that a charge of manslaughter would be placed against Shaughnessy today if the facts of the investigation warrant. Otherwise final action will be held up pending the findings of the coroner's jury. The date of the inquest had not been set.

Bernice Olivera, 7, 1500 Twenty-eighth avenue, was instantly killed and her five-year-old sister Lida, critically injured when they were run down by the truck in front of the Melrose school fifty-second avenue and East Fourteenth street, Oakland, Thursday afternoon. At the Highland hospital it was stated yesterday that Lida has an even chance for recovery.

Infuriated witnesses, who attempted to mob Shaughnessy after the accident, declared that he had disregarded a stop signal.

Aimee Aid Held For Delinquency

(By Universal Service)

SEATTLE, Aug. 26.—The Rev. Hilda B. White, militant evangelist and former associate of Aimee Semple McPherson, was at liberty today on $1000 bail furnished by friends.

The Rev. Mr. White was arrested Wednesday night charged with contributing to the delinquency of Catherine Fugate, 17-year-old high school girl and former choir singer in the First Presbyterian church, who has been acting as his private secretary for several months. The arrest followed a lengthy investigation.

The inquiry is said to have been started by leaders in the First Presbyterian church at the instance of Mrs. W. S. Fugate, the girl's mother, after her daughter left home and took up her residence with Rev. White's family. The pastor declares the charges were a "frame-up." Meanwhile Catherine has been placed in the Juvenile Detention Home, pending the Rev. Mr. White's preliminary hearing in justice court.

Local Pythians Take Part In Ceremonies

Members of the Richmond Lodge of Knights of Pythias last night journeyed to Pinole where they took an active part in the ceremonies in honor of Grand Outer Guard C. L. Towne, who paid his official visit to the Pinole lodge. The local group made the trip by motor and returned at a late hour last night.

At the business meeting of the Pinole lodge degrees were conferred under the direction of the grand officer. Later a social evening was spent and a banquet was served.

STORMS FEARED
Dr. Frederick C. Redfern, dear of Benedict College, Columbia, S. C., who came here to help his son may his course, said that after passing the Grenadines and "while flying fifty miles east of Trinidad Isle and Georgetown British Guiana, to Point St. Andrews and well beyond Dutch Guiana, he passed through greater belts of calm, where severe thunder storms, cyclones and hurricanes occur almost daily."

The unexplored highlands of Guiana also lay between him and his first objective, Macapa, on the northern estuary of the Amazon river. At this place, where the equator crosses the great stream, he was to decide whether to turn east to Recife (Pernambuco), or continue on to Rio de Janeiro.

Redfern expected to make the hop in fifty hours from Brunswick, which would place him at his destination early Saturday night, if he were able to maintain his advance schedule.

The profound silence that has surrounded her husband on his hazardous flight, has increased the anxiety of his young wife. Friends with whom she is staying comforted her by suggesting that a great portion of the first leg of the 4,600 mile flight lay outside regular steamship lines and that as Redfern entered more traveled lanes in the Caribbean sea, he probably would fly at such a high altitude that his motor would be unheard and the plane would be invisible in the tropical darkness.

MOJAVE BLAZE UNDER CONTROL

With the most disastrous forest fire in the history of Angelus National Forest under control at last after it had raged for six days, and with another blaze in Leonis valley burning itself out in the Mojave desert, hundreds of Southern California fire-fighters were able to rest last night for the first time in more than a week.

The Angeles fire, which swept the ridge route region north of Saugus, was finally brought under control late in the afternoon. Although fought by an army of 1,200 men, it left in its wake a blackened path of 40,000 acres, and caused damage to timber stands and resort buildings estimated at $500,000.

The Leonis Valley fire which started about eight miles east of Elizabeth Lake, spent its final fury on the mesquite and greasewood of the Mojave after the wind had swept it out of the timber. The Gilvue school house and several ranch houses were destroyed by the blaze.

Damage estimated at $125,000 also was done to buildings at the Tweedy Lake club resort. Four elaborate cabins of wealthy Los Angeles residents were destroyed. Federal and county forestry officials were considering closing all forest reserve areas to the public.

For autumn street wear, Paris stresses velvets, plain or printed angora jersey, wool crepe, velvet, Rodier georgettes, novelty tweed, cashmere yarn fabrics, satins and crepe satins.

The use of Madison Square Garden, application for which was wired Wednesday to Tex Rickard in Chicago, was declined. Attempts to get the Polo Grounds failed. Carnegie Hall seemed available until it was learned the place is undergoing repairs.

Mrs. Rose Sacco has been requested to accompany Miss Lucia Vanzetti, leaving Boston Sunday night, with the body of her brother.

ENNA JETTICK Health Shoes

From the diary of Enna Jettick
"I knew it, I knew it. I said I simply wouldn't sell tickets this year. Anything else but I'd shift the scenery, carry the trunks, put display cards into every window in town, but sell no tickets. Then Enna said 'oh well, I sold sixty-two this afternoon. Fresh as a daisy. These Enna Jettick shoes are marvelous.'"
